Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

THE CHURCH AND THE WORLD.

The church of long years ago and the church of today were compared by Rev. Dr. L. M. Zimmerman in preaching at Christ Lutheran Church in Baltimore last Sunday night. He said in part:

There has been so much said and done along so-called advanced lines in schools and business that the church has caught the spirit. We hear a great deal said about so-called new theology, new Bibles, new theories, new salvation, new almost everything conceivable, with concerts, dancing academies, gymnasiums and vaudeville interspersed, so that in some churches, at least, there has been started a great rivalry between the church and the world. But the devil will beat the church at his own game every time. And because the church vies with the world in some such instances it is but a schooling for the world, and not for the church. There is a time and a place for all things, but we must be careful that we do not turn things upside down by converting the church into the world. Keep the ship in the water, but don't let the water get into the ship. Let there be halls unconsecrated for things temporal, but let the church be set apart for holy purposes, for the preaching of the word and the administration of the sacraments. In the pulpit, therefore, there should be the clear, plain truth, without any equivocation or mental reservation. Said Goethe: "When I go to church I want to hear something said with the accent of certainty. I can raise enough questions for myself.' Essays and literary productions along social lines and matters of question and doubt can be bought at the news counter for 10 and 25 cents a number. I am afraid that in some instances, at least, the pulpit itself is responsible for the lukewarmness and indifference in the pew. Burdened down with the cares of the week, they need soul rest on the Lord's day, and if soul food be given them they will be on hand to receive the same. But if they go to church and are disappointed they will not return. Men do not want essays on Sundays."

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much fear the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequaled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASINATE.

An attempt was made Monday night to assasinate former Sheriff Harvey K. Brown, at his home, in Baker City, Oregon, by blowing him up with a dynamite bomb. Brown is at the hospital in a critical condition. One of his legs was blown off, one of his arms badly mutilated and internal injuries were caused by the concussion. The outrage was similar in manner of execution to that which resulted in the death of former Gov. Frank Steunenberg, at Caldwell, Idaho.

Brown was returning home, and as he opened his gate the bomb exploded, wounding him and blowing in the windows of his house. The explosion was heard in the center of the city half a mile away.

The chief of police and county authorities are wholly unable to fathom any cause for the deed, and they are also unable to obtain any clue to the perpetrators of it. Brown had just returned from a trip out of town to some mining property. He was found lying on the sidewalk several feet from the gate, the large posts of which were blown to pieces and the fence shattered for some distance. The perpetrators left no trace of their deed except a wire which extended about 25 feet north along the fence and then went west about 30 feet the middle of the road. It is presumed that the assassin or assassins were lying in wait for Brown and pulled the wire as he entered the gate.

Immediately after the explosion a neighbor of Brown's heard some men running north from the direction of the Brown house. It is thought that Brown had some idea of the identity of the men who perpetrated the outrage, for he was heard to mutter just before lapsing into unconsciousness, "They have laid for me and they got me." He became unconscious a few moments later.

Brown, as sheriff of Baker county, was diligent in enforcing the law against saloonmen and gamblers.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

Thomas Archer, colored, the alleged slayer of Mrs. Mary Lawless Rorschach, who was murdered in Portsmouth, Va., September 10, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday in the Mayor's Court and was held for the action of the next grand jury of the Court of Hustings to answer an indictment charging him with the terrible crime.

More than three hours were consumed in hearing the case, and although there was much evidence of a circumstantial nature connecting Archer with the murder, nothing was testified to which directly proves that he was implicated in the crime.

The Mayor at the conclusion of the case declined to grant bail. The most damaging evidence was that of Detective Land and Policeman Elliott. Detective Land told of having secured Archer's clothing worn by him the night previous to the murder at the latter's home, in Glasgow street, and of having found on one of the lapels several strands of hair exactly the color of Mrs. Rorschach's hair.

[Editorial in Hartford, Conn., Daily Coursant.]

Collector P. Davis Oakley has voluntarily withdrawn the personal bond of $25,000, given for the proper performance of his duties, and has substituted the bond of a fidelity company for the same amount. This commendable action deserves a passing comment. Mr. Oakley found no difficulty whatever in getting bondsmen, but, whoever his bondsmen might be, there could be no denying that they had put the collector under a direct personal obligation to them. It is far more independent and self respecting, to go down into your own pocket for the premium and pay a corporation, chartered for the purpose, for giving its bond for you. This cost him some money, but with that he buys complete personal independence and sets an example that should be widely followed. It is the way to do business; and it is no reflection upon willing friends to go instead to a company. On the contrary, it is doing them a favor.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 2, 1907.

SWISS exporters to the United States are awakening to the fact that the German agreement is not being applied to Switzerland. The matter has been forced to a head by the recent decision of Henderson M. Somerville, of the New York Board of United States General Appraisers, in which he declined to accept export values on milk chocolate shipped to the United States by a Swiss firm. In official Swiss quarters the statement is made that the matter will be brought to the attention of the United States government by Switzerland, with the demand that the German modus vivendi be applied to Swiss exports to the United States. Should Washington refuse, the Swiss government can retaliate by annulling the present agreement by which American goods pay the most favored nation tariff rates and force American goods to pay customs duties under the general tariff, which is much higher than the conventional tariff, in some instances amounting to an increase of 50 per cent. The most favored nation clause of the Swiss-American treaty was renounced by the United States several years ago, and no new treaty has been made since then. The present status, whereby American goods pay the lowest tariff rates, is the result of an agreement which Switzerland can annul at any time. So it seems that the tariff laws can injure some American industries while it fosters and enriches the trusts.

THE FINANCIAL situation of Knightstown, Ind., owing to the expense entailed upon the people by the municipal light and water works plants, has reached the acute stage, and it is understood that several of the members of the City Council will shortly resign. The officials in charge of the electric light plant report that it is now running at a loss and, in addition to this, the power is inadequate for the dynamos and a new engine is needed, with no money to make the purchase. In order to make a showing with the people, the original rates were made very low, and it develops now the taxes have been levied in order to keep the plant going and liberal loans have been made from the general fund. But, despite these extras, the plants are in a bad way and the people feel the burden more sensibly all the time. This should make the people of Alexandria feel glad that they did not embark in the electric light business.

THE New York city Board of Education has appointed a special committee of three to inquire of the teachers whether the abolishment of corporal punishment in public schools has been beneficial or detrimental in maintaining order and respect. Should the consensus of opinion be adverse to the present methods it is proposed to restore the rod to its former position in the schools of the city. Complaints have recently come from some teachers that they are unable to maintain order because the supervising force is powerless to inflict punishment for offenses affecting general behavior. Solomon, the wisest of men, said "spare the rod and spoil the child" and this is as true now as it was thousands of years ago.

UNITED STATES district attorneys in various parts of the country have been instructed by Attorney General Bonaparte to institute suits against a large number of railroad companies, to recover penalties incurred by them for alleged violation of the safety appliance law. The number of alleged violations is said to aggregate 287. The railroads and the trust now seem to be furnishing most of the business for the courts.

THE United States Steel Corporation has laid off over 100 pattern makers at the Homestead, Pa., mills of the Carnegie Steel Company. This is the first instance, so far as known, of the laying off of skilled workmen by the big corporation. It is stated that more discharges of the same class of employes will be made in the near future. The continued discharge of men on the railroads and in the big manufactories is beginning to cause apprehension.

BISHOP TUTTLE, of Missouri, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, in a recent Cleveland interview adopted the Rockefeller view of the Roosevelt administration. He said that the attitude of the government was neither just to the large corporations nor to the people who are behind the movement. He agreed with Mr. Rockefeller in calling it a "runaway" administration. Many besides Bishop Tuttle agree with Mr. Rockefeller in his opinion of "runaways."

With all the members of the Mexican Cabinet present President Diaz received Secretary Root yesterday morning in the Hall of Ambassadors in the National Palace in the City of Mexico. In the evening there was a banquet at the National Palace, the guests including the ministers of state, the city officials and members of the diplomatic corps. President Diaz offered a toast and Mr. Root made a graceful reply.

From Washington

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Oct. 2.

At least 95 per cent. of the coal that will be needed by the Atlantic battleship fleet during its long trip around the Horn to San Francisco will be carried in foreign bottoms. Despite the offer of President Roosevelt to American ship owners to accept bids from them which were not more than fifty per cent inexcess of the foreign offers, which was considered a very liberal proposition, all the American bidders have declined with one exception. That is the American Hawaiian Steamship Company, whose ship, the Virginian, will take a cargo of 12,000 tons at $8 per ton. This is, however, an exceptional case, inasmuch as the Virginian was going to the Pacific anyway, being needed there by her owners.

Attorney General Bonaparte announced today that he has taken up certain alleged corporation evils with Milton B. Purdy, his chief "trust buster," just back from Europe. "There is nothing definite that I can say at this time," he replied in response to a question as to whether any immediate prosecution was to be begun.

The finger of modernism exemplified in this particular instance by Assistant Secretary Winthrop has completely effaced the ancient glories of the public reception room at the Treasury Department. Others have changed the color scheme from time to time, but no one has ever before had the temerity completely to overhaul the room. Gone are the great mirrors that for almost half a century have reflected much beauty and great prominence. The white marble fireplace has been replaced by one of green stone. The old walnut chairs and couch with their coverings of brown leather, have been discarded for the "real thing" in mahogany with deep green leather. The new doors are of mahogany and the window draperies are wine-colored. The azure ceiling with its silver tipped clouds, and the saucy fellows which always seem as if about to alight upon the charming little half-naked cupids for many years have been swinging upon a garland of roses, have been hidden from view by a coat of white. In place of the magnificent chandelier that formerly graced the center of the ceiling, are elaborate side lights. The room is now the finest in the government departments. Secretary Cortelyou will not know the place, when he returns from his summer outing.

Two hundred and fifty delegates are expected to attend the biennial convention of the national association of cotton manufacturers which opens here tomorrow. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Postmaster General Meyer, Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus and Director of the Census North will be among the speakers. William D. Hartshorne, of Lawrence, Mass., president of the organization, will occupy the chair. A number of foreign manufacturers are expected to be present during the convention.

Brig. Gen. William P. Duvall was today appointed by the President as major general in the army, vice General Wm. S. McCaskey, retired from active service.

The U. S. Supreme Court begins its fall term here on Monday, October 14 h.

J. Abergail, who lived at Bladensburg, was caught in the machinery at Corby's yeast factory this morning and killed instantly.

The dead body of a colored woman was found hanging to a limb of a tree near the Piney Branch road this morning. It was undoubtedly a case of suicide.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

President Roosevelt, speaking in Keokuk, Iowa, yesterday announced that there would be no deviation from his announced policies regarding the punishment of offenders. Among other things he said:

The average American citizen will no more tolerate government by a mob than government by a plutocracy.

We need wise laws, and we need to have them resolutely administered.

The price of liberty is not only eternal vigilance, but eternal virtue and eternal common sense.

Every man must have a master; if he is not his own master, then somebody else will be.

I will do everything I can to help business conditions, except anything that is wrong.

If righteousness conflicts with the fancied needs of business, then the latter must go to the wall.

Crimes of fraud and cunning shall be prosecuted as relentlessly as crime and brutality and physical violence.

There must be gentleness and tenderness, but there must also be courage and strength.

I honor no man quite as much as I honor a good woman who does her full duty as wife and mother.

I preach to you the life of effort, the life that finds its highest satisfaction in doing well some work that is well worth doing.

In addition to the iron highroads of our railway system we should also utilize the great river highways which have been given us by nature.

Nothing is more important to this country than the perpetuation of our system of medium sized farms worked by their owners.

Too often our present schools tend to put altogether too great a premium upon mere literary education.

The greatest national asset is to be found in the children.

Government supervision and control over railroads like that over national banks should be exercised in a spirit of rigid fairness.

Perhaps I am most anxious to get at the politician who is corrupt because he betrays a great trust; but assuredly I shall not spare his brother corruptionist who shows himself a swindler in business life; and, according to our power, crimes of fraud and cunning shall be prosecuted as relentlessly as crimes of brutality and physical violence.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 2.—The stock market was active and irregular all through the first hour but at the end of that period the speculative position assumed a strong shape and prices showed moderate gains over yesterday's close. Before the end of the hour covering of shorts started again in moderate volume and did much to help establish prices on a higher level.

Goldfield, Nev., today is cut off from railroad communication with the outside world. A brakeman, caught drinking was discharged by the Tonopah and Goldfield railroad. The crews all over the system refused to work when their demand that he be reinstated was denied.

Conditions are slightly improved in the storm-swept district of southern France. The storms of the last fortnight give indications of abating and people are more hopeful. It is believed some of the wreckage of vines and trees can be saved if there are no further storms or floods.

Sir Thomas Lipton in a letter to the Royal Irish Yacht Club expressed regret at the refusal of the New York Yacht Club to accept his challenge, and announced that he gave up hope of a contest. The Irish club will take no further action.

It was announced in Boston yesterday that the Suffolk county grand jury had indicted two State Senators, a Representative, an ex-Representative, two aldermen of Boston and a bank president charged with soliciting positions with telegraph and telephone companies.

As was predicted a fortnight ago contract has been signed by the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad operating the railroad lines west of Pittsburg, taking effect yesterday, whereby the Western Union will operate over the same Pennsylvania wires in that section as hitherto with several notable additions.

Secretary and Mrs. Taft were the guests of honor at a brilliant reception at the American consulate at Yokohama, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Asiatic Association. Features of the entertainment were the presentation of a silver tea service to Mrs. Taft from the city of Yokohama, and the exchange of significant and friendly speeches between Secretary Taft and prominent Japanese.

Startling charges of extravagance and neglectful management, or, if not that, failure to account for millions of dollars, are made by State's Attorney General Jackson in a petition filed in New York yesterday, calling for the appointment of receivers for the New York City Railway Company and the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, and also demanding the dissolution of the New York City Railway Company.

Miss Evelyn Cauble, aged fourteen, daughter of David Cauble, who resides on George Vanderbilt's Biltmore estate, near Ashville, N. C., was chloroformed at an early hour yesterday morning at her home, and an attempted assault was frustrated by the screams of her ten-year-old sister, who occupied the same room. The cries of the younger girl aroused the girl's parents, who put the intruder to flight

In defense of his own and his wife's honor which he claimed had been impugned by a newspaper article, Dr. Fremy, of St. Pierre, wounded M. Mazier, editor of the Reviel, of North Sydney, N. S., in a fiercely fought duel yesterday. Swords were the weapons used and the men met by agreement in a rink in St. Pierre. Mazier received a severe thrust through the right breast after 10 minutes of hard fighting, and his second declared he could not continue.

A heavenly body that had the appearance of a huge sky rocket, and rose to a great height in the western sky over the Ramapo Mountains, before it broke into a half dozen pieces, was seen last night by many persons in the vicinity of Suffern, N. Y. When it was first seen it seemed to be a huge bullet-shaped ball of fire, leaving a trail of white light in its wake. When it had reached a great height and broke the pieces assumed a purple hue, while the head of the comet, if such it was, remained white.

The American wife of Hugh Miller, a wealthy young insurance broker, would not accept the "affinity plea," like Frederick Pinney Earle's wife, and yesterday she brought suit for divorce in the White Plains, N. Y., Supreme Court, naming as co-respondent beautiful Carlotta Knopf, 22-year-old heiress to a great fortune, who is said to have discovered a soul bond between herself and Miller. All efforts to have the divorce obtained secretly were wasted upon the wounded wife who would do nothing to shield the girl whom she charges with wrecking her home and happiness.

George Cramer, raving like a mad man, is being held at New York pending an indictment for murder. The police say they believe the girl he killed was literally bitten to death. Cramer said he was dringing Friday when he met the girl. He rented a room and they were there until Monday morning, when he asserts he left. The landlady says that he did not leave till Tuesday and the body was found shortly after his departure.

Mr. John Sharp Williams, democratic leader in the House, will, it is said, not be a candidate for re-election to Congress. He wishes to take a two-years' vacation before he takes his seat as Senator from Mississippi, succeeding H. D. Money. In the interval he will devote his time to reading and to writing a life of Thomas Jefferson. Senator Money's term does not expire until March 4, 1911, but Mr. Williams was chosen at the primaries last July to succeed him. Mr. Williams feels that there has been too much disagreement among the democrats in the House and also has felt himself falling behind in the literary work which especially interests him.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Three hundred years after the reading of the first Episcopal service in America, on Jamestown Island, the general convention of that church in America is holding its triennial convocation in Richmond, beginning this morning.

The convention opened its session with impressive ceremonies, in which leaders of the church in England and America participated. Meeting in the parish house, in the rear of Holy Trinity Church, in which edifice the opening session was held, the bishops, in procession, and clothed in their vestments, marched to the front seats, which were reserved for them. Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, of Missouri, senior bishop of the American church, presided. The sermon was delivered by Right Rev. A. F. Winnington-Ingram, Lord Bishop of London, in whose diocese Colonial Virginia was included.

Holy Trinity Church, a memorial to Bishop Moore, was formally consecrated with impressive ceremonies yesterday morning. Right Rev. Robert A. Gibson, bishop of Virginia, presided. The services were in charge of Rev. J. J. Gravatt, rector of the church. Immediately preceding the services, the local and visiting clergy gathered in the parish house, and, after donning their vestments, marched along the area way on the side of the church, entering at the side door. The clergy took their seats within the chancel rail and around the communion table. The procession was met in the vestibule of the church by the vestrymen, who followed the clergy, taking seats in front of the chancel.

As the clergymen proceeded up the aisle the verses of the twenty-fourth Psalm were read alternately, the bishop reading one verse and the clergy another. Bishop Gibson, seated, received the instruments of donation in behalf of the congregation of the church from Col. John W. Gordon, following which a prayer was offered by the bishop. The sentence of consecration was read by Rev. Mr. Gravatt and laid by him on the communion table. Following the consecration service the service for the day was read, after which Right Rev. George W. Peterkin, Bishop of West Virginia, delivered the sermon. The service closed with the celebration of the holy communion.

Many of the important matters which were left unfinished by the Boston convention will be considered by the convention. These questions will come before the house of deputies, which will sit daily in St. Paul's Church, and the house of bishops, which meets in the assembly room of the house of delegates, in the State capitol.

Commissioners were named at Boston, charged with reporting at Richmond on suffragan bishops, upon the condition and uplifting of the colored man, upon civil legislation in the matter of marriage and divorce, and upon Christian education. Laid over for Richmond at the Boston convention were courts of appeal, provinces, permissive use of the revised version, and a canon embodying the Huntington amendment. The colored man, his situation and improvement, will be given careful consideration, and the canon on marriage and divorce, which was adopted by the Boston convention as a compromise measure after a disagreement between the bishops and the deputies, will be futher considered.

An important event of the convention will be a thank offering commemorating the three hundredth annivesary of the birth of the church in America.

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the House of Bishops met in the east wing of the State Capitol, and the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies in St. Paul's Church for organization, election of officers and general business.

The business sessions will be held every morning at 10 o'clock and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

This afternoon the Daughters of the King and Woman's Auxiliary held meetings.

The first social feature of the convention was held last night, when Bishop Gibson gave a reception in honor of the Bishop of London. The majority of the most prominent churchmen and delegates were present, as were also many local celebrities who are not members of the Episcopal faith.

In the receiving line stood the Bishop of Virginia, the Bishop of London, the Misses Gibson, Mrs. Edward V. Valentine and Miss Constance Peterkin. The episcopal residence brilliantly lighted, was decorated with palms and Southern smilax, making an effective background for American beauties in the drawing-rooms and golden glow and golden-rod in the halls. As the visitors entered they were introduced by Bishop Gibson to the Bishop of London, who charmed every one by the cordiality of his response and by his magnetic personality. All Richmond churches were represented in the assembly of last evening. Miss Rebecca Norwood and Mrs. Charles E. Bolling were with the reception committee.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—With a sermon by the Bishop of London, and the most notable gathering of Episcopal clergy and laymen ever assembled in the United States the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in America opened here today.

Among the Bishop's in attendance are the Bishop of London, Bishop Jacobs, of St. Albans, England; Bishop Du Moulin, of Niagara, Canada, and Archbishop Nuttall, of the West Indies. There will also be an attendance of the missionary bishops from all lands where the church maintains stations. Bishop Montgomery, former Bishop of Tasmania, and now secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, England's most ancient missionary organization, will deliver a message from the Archbishop of Canterbury, the English Primate.

A few of the lay delegates are J. Pierpont Morgan, Generals E. S. Bragg, John M. Brown and W. P. Craighill, Capt. Richmond Pierson Hobson, Thomas Nelson Page, Treat Payne, Henry E. Pierpont, Joseph Packards and George Peabody.

The bankruptcy proceedings of the National Steel and Wire Corporation have been brought to a close by the purchase of the plant in New Haven, Conn., for $650,000, and it is said that agents of the steel trust are negotiating with the receivers of the bankrupt concern.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," in an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles, too, and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by druggists. 25c.

Today's Telegraphic News.

The President in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 2.—The stern-wheel steamer Mississippi, with the flag of the President flying from her peak, slipped under the Eadds bridge before 9 o'clock this morning, nearly an hour before her schedule time for arrival. The fleet of gaily decorated steamers, tugs, launches and pleasure craft of all descriptions that was awaiting the presidents arrival, chorused a noisy welcome with bells sirens and just plain whistles, and the President came out on deck to acknowledge the welcome by waving his hat.

Captain Seth Bullock and Lieutenant McIlheny were at the President's side when he made his appearance.

At 9:30 the committee representing the business organizations drove to the levee to receive the President and a few minutes later the Mississippi steamed up to the dock, and the President landed escorted by his secret service guards and secretaries.

"By George, this is just splendid," he said, as he surveyed the crowd, the line of decorated boats and the bunting decked businesshouses on the levee.

After hand shaking with the members of the committee the President entered a carriage and with the members of his party was driven around town and then to the Auditorium where he made an address.

Just as the parade started a downpour of rain began to fall, but standing in his carriage, waving his hand to the crowd, the President greeted the thousands along the line of march. The seat in the carriage was a pool of water. All other carriages in the parade were covered.

A considerable portion of the President's speech was in reference to the opening up of the great West, the phenominal growth of the cities of that section of the country, the commerce of the American lakes and reasons he sees for the building of a great fighting navy. In speaking of present interstate commerce conditions Mr. Roosevelt, among other things, said:

"A hundred years ago there was, except the commerce which crawled along our seacoast or up and down our interior waterways, practically no interstate commerce. Now, by the railroad, the mails, the telegraph, and the telephone an immense part of our commerce is interstate.

"By the transformation it has escaped from the power of the State and come under the power of the nation. Therefore there has been a great practical change in the exercise of the national power, under the acts of Congress, over interstate commerce. The change as regards interstate commerce has been, not in the constitution, but in the business of the people to which it is to be applied. Our economic and social future depends in a very large part upon how the interstate commerce power of the nation is interpreted.

I believe that the nation has the whole governmental power over interstate commerce and the widest discretion in dealing with that subject; of course under the express limits prescribed in the constitution for the exercise of all powers, such for instance as the condition that "due process of law" shall not be denied. The nation has no direct power over purely interstate commerce, even where it is conducted by the same agencies which conduct interstate commerce and the courts must determine what is national and what is State. * * *

Personally I firmly believe that there should be national legislation to control all industrial corporations doing an interstate business, including the control of the output of their securities, but as to these the necessity for federal control is less urgent and immediate than is the case with the railroads. Many of the abuses connected with these corporations will probably tend to disappear now that the government—the public—is gradually getting the upper hand as regards putting a stop to the rebates and special privileges which some of these corporations have enjoyed at the hands of the common carriers. But ultimately it will be found that the complete remedy for these abuses lies in direct and affirmative action by the national government. That there is constitutional power for the national regulation of these corporations I have myself no question."

The trip from the auditorium to the Jefferson Hotel where luncheon was served, was under ideal conditions. The rain stopped and the sun was shining.

The President almost hugged Governor Folk who introduced him and made the governor wince at his handshake, remarking: "I'm a great admirer of yours, Governor."

The President ate an elaborate luncheon with great avidity at the hotel with 400 others and did not refuse the sherry, the wine or the brandy. No speeches were made at the luncheon table.

He seemed delighted at the third ovation which greeted him as he drove from the hotel to the wharf where he left for Cairo and Memphis at 3 p. m.

At the Wood River Refinery below Alton this morning, one thousand Standard Oil employees fired 21 charges of dynamite to the President's boat as a salute. The superintendent had the 1,000 employes lined up on the river bank, each man yelling lustily and waving flags.

To Sue Telegraph Companies.

New York, Oct. 2.—Attorney General Jackson applied today to Justice Ford of the supreme court for permission to commence suit in the people's name against the Postal and Western Union Telegraph companies to vacate both corporations' charters and annual their existence, so far as New York state is concerned. He maintains they have entered into contracts to fix rates on messages within New York or filed in New York to points in the United States and elsewhere. The Attorney General charges that the agreements to which he refers have resulted in an increase in rates amounting in many instances to 20 per cent. more than was charged before the new tariff was established. The order to show cause why permission for the filing of the suit should not be granted is made returnable in the Supreme Court October 4.

Despite her total blindness Mrs. Mary Ellen Hanley, aged 67 years, of Pawtucket, R. I., tried to put coal on the fire today and was burned to death. Her clothing caught fire and when she tried to run from the house she became wedged between the door and the wall and there blazed until the firemen arrived.

Without referring specifically to the plague, which it is fighting furiously, the San Francisco health department is offering a reward of five cents for each rat brought in dead or alive.

Denouement Expected.

London, Oct. 2.—The denoucement of a remarkable near-tragedy, involving a well-known English county family, in which the father is said to have threatened to kill himself and his two sons unless the wife he had abandoned for another woman granted him $50,000, is eagerly awaited here. Balked in his attempt to extort money, the man is said to be on his way to London from New York to purge himself of contempt of court and bring suit to recoverer his sequestered estates. The names are kept strictly secret. It is expected they will become public upon the return of the erring husband and father to his home.

The man abandoned his wife and two sons for another charmer. The wife sued for divorce and was given custody of the sons while the suit was pending. Angered, the man went to New York, taking his new companion and likewise stealing his sons from the boarding school, where they had been placed, thus placing himself in contempt. When his money failed he wrote for more, to find his estates had been sequestered. Then he sent his alleged threat to kill himself and the boys unless $50,000 was sent him in a month. On the very eve of the expiration of the month of grace allowed by the husband and father, the detectives placed on his trail in New York ran him down. The boys were recovered and shipped back to London. Then the father started for home, determined to answer the contempt charge and recover his estates, his female companion having abandoned him when his funds ran out.

Japan and the Philippines.

Tokio, Oct. 2.—Secretary of War Taft is devoting himself to Japanese royalty today. His entertainment at the imperial palace equals in magnificence any tendered to a visiting prince. The Taft party will leave Tokio at 6 tonight. The secretary says he is much gratified by the spirit of kindness with which he has been met and believes relations between his own and the Mikado's countries will be much pleasanter from now on.

Secretary Taft, American Ambassador O'Brien, Foreign Minister Hayshi and Secretary of general affairs had a long conversation at Shibu Palace yesterday concerning questions of Japanese immigration and naturalization in America. It is said the result promises an amicable settlement of all disputed points.

The Japanese press is somewhat divided in its comments concerning Taft's outspoken declaration at last night's banquet that the United States will absolutely not sell the Philippines. Some editors take the view that the Mikado does not want the islands; others that he might have them if he chose.

"Many Americans would be glad to be rid of the Philippines," he said, 'and it has been suggested that we might relieve ourselves of the burden by a sale to Japan or some other country. The suggestion is absurd, Japan does not want the Philippines. More than this America could not sell to another power without the grossest violation of her obligations to the Filipinos."

A Menace to Great Britain.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—Germany's most important naval move in years—one involving a direct menace to Great Britain—has just been determined on by the government. This is the transfer of naval headquarters from Kiel to Wilhelmshaven, establishing Germany's chief naval station within 300 miles of the British coast and the Kaiser's entire fleet within a sixteen hours sail of England. It is the intention to station all the German big battleships at Wilhelmshaven, which will be the base from which all naval manoeuvers will be directed in the future. No effort is being made by Germany to conceal her intention thus to readjust the balance of naval power in the North Sea and the authorities are proceeding with their plans with apparent disregard to England's view of this change of base.

Young Woman Missing.

New York, Oct. 2.—Relatives of Miss Louise Kerodoffer, of Chattolanee, Md., are trying to trace the young woman from that place in the hope that they may learn at what point she left the Pennsylvania train from which she disappeared somewhere between Chattolanee and Jersey City, September 21. All that they know is that she wrote to her brother, of Jersey City, that she would arrive at the Pennsylvania terminal the night of September 22, to meet another brother, due to arrive from Europe the following Monday. It is certain that she left Chattolanee but she did not arrive. The young woman is a seamstress, 23 years old and very pretty.

Runaway Ferryboat.

New York, Oct. 2.— Through some misunderstanding of signals the ferryboat Rochester, of the West Shore Railroad, left the slip at Weehawken shortly before 8 o'clock last night with no one at the steering wheel, steamed at full speed across the river and crashed into and sank the barge Castleton, which was being unloaded at west 36th street. One man was seriously injured and several others passengers were cut by flying glass and splinters. Prompt work by the crew saved many from jumping overboard in the panic.

The fire broke out in the cellar of the four-story building and burned through to the roof. It spread over the upper floors. Heavy damage was caused by smoke and water. Only nine employes were in the building at the time and all were rescued.

Several cages were injured, one animal killed and others injured and a Rocky Mountain goat escaped from a broken cage at Basic City, but was later recaptured. ASSAILANT IDENTIFIED.

Charles Weiss, thirty years old, brother of Amelia Weiss, who was with John W. Mullen, when he was assaulted and probably fatally wounded late Sunday afternoon in Dead Man's Hollow, about a quarter of a mile west of the Aqueduct Bridge, was positively identified by Mullen last night as his assailant. Weiss, who is the eldest brother of the sixteen-year-old girl, was taken, with four other men of about the same build and similar appearance, before Mullen on his cot in the Georgetown University Hospital, and he was positively identified. He was brought from the first precinct to the hospital in the custody of Desk Sergeant Gray.

Weiss declares he is innocent, and claims he can prove an alibi. His face turned pale when Mullen positively identified him. There was silence for a moment, and all the while Mullen's eyes rested fixedly upon the man he had accused.

Weiss advanced to the side of the cot at the suggestion of Mr. Mackey and grasped the wounded man's hand.

"This is the first time I ever saw you. I am innocent." Weiss said. "Now, if you have any doubt, say so in the presence of these people and relieve me of blame. You're on your death bed now, and for God's sake do not condemn me for something I have not done."

"No; you are the man; I am positive. You shot me, and you know it," Mullen answered quickly. Mullen although weakened and suffering great pain, was cool and collected.

Mr. Mackey again talked with Mullen who insisted that he had made no mistake. He told Mr. Mackey that he got one good glance at Weiss while the latter, he said, was clubbing him when he held the revolver against his face before firing it into his mouth. Mullen says that after he had been beaten almost into insensibility the girl remarked: "You have beaten him enough. Now, for God's sake, let him alone."

"My brother is not guilty of this crime. It is a negro and he ought to be lynched," asserted Miss Weiss in an interview

John had no chance to see what the men looked like anyhow," she continued "He was shot to the ground and fell upon his face. The man who was a negro, had a dark cap pulled over his forehead. He held me a prisoner for half an hour, and I ought to know what he looked like more than anybody."

Charles Weiss is still being held in Washington. The impression in the county is that he caught his sister and Mullen in a compromising position and attacked the latter.

PROPOSED PARK.

A plan to turn the government reservation at the Virginia end of the Aqueduct Bridge into a park that would make a suitable approach to the Arlington National Cemetery, was formulated [illegible] the board of trade of [illegible] the War Dep[illegible] control of the five-acre tract.

This committee will ask the War Department to improve the land by cleaning up the property and ornamenting it with parking, shrubbery and flower beds. It is also suggested that a statue of Thomas Jefferson be erected in such a park, which would be a gateway to a proposed boulevard leading directly to Arlington, and which can only be made attractive by the removal of a number of the unslightly buildings that now mar the route to one of the capital's most popular sights

It is understood that Senator Daniel of Virginia and Representative Carlin will introduce bills at the coming session of Congress looking toward the establishment of a more elaborate system of parks than that contemplated by the Alexandria County Board of Trade.

At the meeting yesterday, F. Wiley Stearns, president of the Arlington National Bank, presided, and the best methods to promote the prosperity of Alexandria county were discussed.

CONCERT.

Among the soloists to be heard at the Old Folks' Concert, to be given for the benefit of Grace Church at the Opera House on October 15, will be Mrs. Smart, soprano soloist at the First Congregational Church, Washington, whose voice will be heard to good advantage in the sextette from Lucia. Miss Artz, another one of Washington's favorite sopranos, will sing the solo parts in "I Waited for the Lord." Miss Luxon, whose sweet soprano voice never fails to please, will sing "Annie Laurie" and also a duet with Mr. Joseph Mathiew, one of Washington's favorite tenors. Mrs. Eleanore Spencer and Miss Florence Sullivan will also come in for their share of the work in the contralto parts. Mrs. Cook will take the part of Aunt Rachel, who, with Mr. Spencer Armstrong, will sing "Ruben and Rachel." Miss Marjorie Ramey, the only representative of this city, will sing "Cousin Jedediah."

MEETING FOR MEN.

A meeting for men will be held in the lecture room of the Methodist Episcopal Church South next Sunday afternoon, commencing at 3:30 o'clock, when Rev. Joseph R. Sevier, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, will deliver an address on the subject, "A Truncated Life." Mr. Kenneth W. Ogden will sing a solo, and others who will participate in the programme are Messrs. H. K. Field, chorister; A. L. Jameson and C. J. Howell, violinists; C. W. Fleet cornetist; Frederick Hill, clarinetist, and Tebe Creighton, pianist. Rev. Charles D. Bulla, pastor of the church, will preside.

MORE DISCHARGES.

The Southern Railway Company, it is said, is discharging watchmen at the depots throughout the system. The positions of watchmen at the W. & O. and Duke street depots have been abolished.

COUNTY MEETINGS.

The recent school election in Alexandria county was a subject discussed at two meetings of citizens on the heights above Rosslyn Monday night. It was reported that the Pennsylvania, Southern and other steam roads affected are seeking to secure an injunction to prevent the collection of the tax voted last Tuesday week which will put several thousand dollars at the command of the Arlington and Washington school districts for the erection of schoolhouses. It was stated at one of the meetings that any such move would be met with the enforcement of Sunday laws which would seriously cripple the traffic of the roads.

The Fort Myer-Colonial Heights Association took up the subject soon after the members had gathered at the heights chapel on a statement by the chairman, C. E. Lewis, that it was fortunate the society had sent its representative, Robert King, to the polls to watch proceedings, for he would be able to testify as to the regularity of the voting. A motion thanking Mr. King for his efficient attention to the duty was passed.

The Clarendon Citizens' Association met in the county courthouse and called for a statement from County Superintendent of Schools Clements. He suggested that the county supervisors be requested to take action toward carrying the will of the people into effect at once. Commonwealth Attorney Mackey stated that he is ready to resist any movement of the railroad attorneys as a part of his public duty, and will do all in his power to secure to the people the school privileges they are seeking.

A meeting of the Board of Trade of Alexandria county was held in Rosslyn yesterday afternoon. The chief topic discussed was the best means to promote the prosperity and advancement of Alexandria county. Attention was called to the necessity of improving the condition of the government reservation at Rosslyn.

Mr. R. H. Phillips said the present bad condition of this property should be remedied. On motion of Mr. J. E. E. Clements a committee was appointed to lay the matter before the War Department, and request that a park in which could be placed a statue of Thomas Jefferson be made on the area in question.

WANTS POSSESSION OF CHILD.

Alexander J. Wedderburn, jr., yesterday applied to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia for a writ of habeas corpus, requiring his wife, Mrs. Helen P. Wedderburn, and her mother, Mrs. Lucy D. Pollock, to have his two-years-old daughter, Helen Taylor Wedderburn, in court next Friday, that the question of her custody may be determined by the tribunal. Mr. Wedderburn, by Attorneys Charles Bendheim and Malcolm Hufty, informs the court that he was married July 10, 1902, and lived with his wife at their Virginia home until September 1, when, he declares, his wife left him and carried the child to her mother's home in Washington. He says he is entitled to have possession of the child, and asks the assistance of the court.

TOOK THE WRONG ROAD.

Attention has heretofore been directed to the fact that automobilists and drivers of vehicles on their way from this city to Washington upon arriving at the approach to the overhead bridge, a short distance north of this city, often turn to the right instead of to the left, for the reason that there is no sign or electric light to indicate at which point the turn should be made. A few nights ago a large automobile containing a party from Washington who had been visiting this city, upon arriving opposite the bridge, turned to the right and were proceeding at a rapid gait eastward on Slater's road toward the Potomac river. People living in the neighborhood succeeded in stopping the automobile with lanterns, after which the party were directed to the right road. A man in charge of a team made a similar mistake a few nights ago.

WORK OF VANDALS.

Employees of the Southern Railway Company were yesterday engaged in placing the finishing work upon the concrete coping at the western end of the Wilkes street tunnel. They placed iron supports on the Fairfax street front of the same. Between nine and ten o'clock last night some persons removed one of the support and cast it into the mouth of the tunnel. Apart from committing a misdemeanor by destroying property, the perpetrators might have made themselves responsible for derailing a train, as there was a likelihood of the iron support falling upon the railroad track.

Rich Oriental Rugs.

Oriental Rugs, like oil paintings, are not priced by the yard. The quality of the wool, the closeness of the weave, the beauty of the pattern—all enter into the element cost.

A genuine Oriental Rug possesses distinct individuality, and is at the same time adaptable to an unusual degree. While it may in itself form the basis of an entire scheme of furnishing, it will also harmonize with furniture and decorations of widely different styles and periods. Furthermore, the genuine Oriental Rug has a lasting value, both decorative and monetary. By importing direct from the best Eastern markets, we are enabled to assemble and offer an unequaled selection of Oriental weaves, with an absolute confidence that gives enhanced value to our guarantee of genuineness,

Our stock was selected by an expert with great care, and represents a most artistic collection, combining rare beauty and richness of colorings.

For convenience we have grouped the small Rugs into piles of the same price, as follows:

To the Public:

We want to thank the hundreds of our friends who responded so heartily to our "Fall Opening" invitation. We naturally expected a great crowd, but must confess that even the great floor space of this popular house was unable to accommodate the enormous outpouring. We were simply overwhelmed with the vast throngs that attended our "Fall Opening" yesterday afternoon and evening. A large number of our friends were disappointed at not receiving the courteous attention we always give them, but on account of the great rush it was simply impossible for us to do better. For the benefit of all those who were unable to see our display we have decided not to disturb the display for several days.

Respectfully yours,

D. Bendheim & Sons,

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.

Two serious automobile accidents occurred in Baltimore yesterday evening, the casualties totaling one man killed, a other unconscious and seriously injured a young woman in the hospital with a fractured skull, two racing cars, one touring car, and a big dirt wagon wrecked.

The first accident occurred on Baltimore street, along Patterson Park. Howard W. Gill, president of the Motor Car Company, and Edward Bartlett, in racing cars, were driving along Baltimore street side by side at a rattling gait. The cars were nearly even, and each was evidently striving for the advantage, when a big dirt cart, drawn by two horses, with another hitched to the tailboard, came up the street.

There was a terrific head-on collision. The front wheels of the cart, which collided with both auto cars, were torn off, and all three horses were cut; one so badly that he must be killed.

Gill and Miss Reighly, who was riding with him, were thrown out, the young lady falling on her head and crushing her skull. Miss Irene Cook, who was riding with Bartlett, was also thrown out, but escaped serious injury. Bartlett clung to his wheel and spun about on it as a pivot, suffering only a serious shaking-up.

In the other accident John T. Hutchinson, of Philadelphia, who was riding with Frank S. Hooper, of Yard Arm, Baltimore county, was killed. Hooper was driving along the route of the boulevard now being constructed in the northern suburbs. It was quite dark, and Hooper drove the auto over a steep embankment. Hooper had not recovered consciousness at a late hour last night.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all druggists. 50c.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotton rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Hard Times in Kansas.
